OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 6, 1862.

Schemes of the Enemy.

We are sorry to observe a manifest disposition on the part of some who have professed themselves Union men, to discourage the ticket nominated by the State Union Convention at Eugene City. There should be only one aim in the hearts of all true Union men in Oregon, as regards the approaching election, and that aim should be the success of the candidates who have been regularly designated by the combined action of the loyal citizens of the State without regard to parties or party antecedents.

We see it intimated in the Times that certain individuals, probably feeling sore on account of some disappointed aspirations, are endeavoring to effect a movement to place in the field a Peoples' Union ticket, in opposition to the regular nominees of the Union organization, who are now canvassing the State. We can not but look upon any such effort as a covert attack upon the loyal spirit of the State, and as designed alone to render assistance to the secession party falsely styling themselves democrats. A ticket put forth in such a manner could have no possible ground to hope for success, and would only give strength to secession candidates, by dividing the Union vote. This is too potent to require being urged upon the mind of any observing person. The loyal people of Oregon have already made up their minds to vote the regular Union ticket, regardless of any personal objections they may have to individual candidates. They will look, and justly too, with extreme distrust on any man or set of men, who shall oppose a Union nomination, made as those now in the field were made, fairly and honestly. The Convention which placed that ticket before the people and asked their support of it, was no suddenly or secretly planned organization. The call under which it acted was a call to no party or creed heretofore existing. It was to all who felt willing to postpone their party peculiarities and political tenets, and unite their efforts to defeat the nefarious purposes of rebel sympathizers in our State. The Convention was composed of those who had affiliated with all the prominent political parties so late as the election of the present President. That Convention was endorsed by the Union men throughout the State, in their sending delegates to it; and they will now support its nominations against any foe, whether secessionist avowed or secessionist under guise of opposition Union man.

All who shall aid in an effort to build up a so-called Union force in opposition to the election of our present candidates, are either secessionists or the willing tools of secessionists. Every vote cast for such a ticket will be half a vote for committed secessionists; and we should deem any person worthy of suspicion who could be induced to forsake the nominees of the Eugene Convention and follow off after the schemes of mere political hucksters. A man who would knowingly and willingly lend his influence to the enemies of his country by weakening its friends, would not hesitate to play the traitor in any other way, if by so doing he might gratify his individual interests.

We sincerely hope that any such pretended peoples' ticket will receive prompt and thorough condemnation from Union men, wherever and whenever it may be proposed. And we appeal to all true patriots throughout the State to spurn any proposition, from whatever source, that, if carried out, would diminish the strength of the Union cause; and to be warned against any such endeaver as that of constructing yet another Union party, for we are sure that its foundation is opposition to the Government of the United States, and the triumph it contemplates is the triumph of the secessionists in Oregon. The same remarks will apply with equal force to opposition county nominations, where Union men have already co-operated mutually, and placed their candidates in the field for county officers.

California Marble.—A new marble quarry has been opened about five miles from Grass Valley, California. The stone is of a grayish color, fine texture, and is susceptible of a handsome polish.

Ex-Gov. Pennington, of New Jersey, was poisoned. His attendant put up morphine in a powder for him instead of quinine, and he took eight grains, which caused his death. He had been ill of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Greenow has again been offered her liberation upon taking the oath of allegiance, which she persistently refuses. "When a woman says she will," &c.

The Barbarities at Ball's Bluff and Manassas.—The inhumanity and indecency of the rebel soldiers are very clearly set forth in the following extracts from the army correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer:

The foraging expedition, which was under the direction of Major Atwell, of the cavalry, and Captain Chapman, of the regiment, returned with many spoils of war horses, wagons, several hundred barrels of flour, porkers and other useful articles, and a plethoric package of the useless Confederate bonds and bills. Among the prisoners was George Ritchie, the fiend who had accelerated the death of wounded Union soldiers at Ball's Bluff by stamping upon them. One instance which is stamped upon his soul as indelibly as the letters of blood upon the wall at Belshazzar's feast, is that of a poor wounded soldier, who had crawled upon his hands and knees to his house, and in piteous accents implored assistance. With brute-like ferocity Ritchie jumped upon and kicked him to death, with such exclamations as, "If they have not already killed you I'll do it."

On riding around to-day we found a skull in the camp of a Mississippi regiment—Carved on it were the words "All that is left of a Fire Zouave." Women living on the battle field of Bull Run say that on the day of the battle one of our soldiers rode up to a rebel squad near her house and asked for General McDowell. He was pointed to a house close by, the men not understanding him. He started for the house, but seeing a rebel flag, he turned to get away, and was fired upon. The last man who fired killed him. He was stripped, and the papers found on him were taken off to head-quarters. She had him buried, but a few days after they came and dug up his body, and cutting off the flesh, took away the skull and bones.

Portland, May 3d, 1862.

Editor Oregonian:

Sir: Please allow me through your paper to reply to the vile attempt made in the last Advertiser to subject me to ridicule, by announcing me as a candidate for Sheriff of this county. Because of the strong secession views of that paper I have quit taking it; and this may be one reason why he has stooped so low as to try to make me the point of ridicule.

I labor hard, and I think honestly, for my living. Meddle not in politics, except to exercise my right as a freeman to vote for those that I believe to be free from a traitor's stain. No reptile that crawls can be more contemptible or loathsome than the man who aims to make a quiet and retired man, who depends alone upon honest industry for his livelihood—one who never mixes in politics, save to quietly cast his vote; and he who does this—seeks to drag before the public such a person—may not only find that, instead of making me a butt to laugh at, the finger of scorn will be pointed at himself. But he may find that the stalwart arm of the laboring man can bestow that salutary and wholesome admonition that can only be perfectly understood and appreciated by ours.

Wm. Blackston.

Union Convention of Washigton Co.—The following nominations were made in Convention of Delegates of Washington County, held at Hillsboro, on Saturday the 3d day of May:

Senator—Wilson Bowlby; Representative for Washington and Columbia Counties—E. W. Conyers; Representative—R. Wilcox; County Judge—Hyer Jackson; Sheriff—R. E. Wiley; County Clerk—W. D. Hare; Treasurer—W. Simmons; Assessor—J. B. Kellog; School Superintendent—E. A. Tanner; Co. Surveyor—Geigor; Coroner—Dr. Adams.

County Committee—W. D. Hare, A. Hinman, B. Brown, R. Walker. J. H. Egan, J. B. Kellog, Oliver Clay, Samuel Ritchie, Jacob Walker.

This Convention endorsed the action of the Eugene Convention.

Senator Nesmith.—Under date of Washington, March 12th, Senator Nesmith writes: "By the papers which reached me this morning, I see that there is a call for a Union Convention to nominate candidates for the coming election. It has my hearty approval, and my sincerest desire for its success."

Out-spoken.—The political chief of the secessionists of Oregon, John C. Breckinridge, makes the following declaration. Its doctrines have never been disavowed by his friends here:

"I am utterly opposed to a re-construction of the old Government, or any measure which in the remotest degree tends in that direction."

The Difference.—Jeff. Davis suspends Union editors in the South. Here the Government only occasionally suspends a rebel newspaper. The editors are suffered to run.

The steamer Herman took passengers from San Francisco to Victoria for $10 per head.

General Wright has issued the following General Orders:

"Military commanders will promptly arrest and hold in custody all persons against whom the charge of aiding and abetting the rebellion can be sustained, and under no circumstances will such persons be released without first subscribing to the oath of allegiance to the United States. All persons seeking to furnish supplies of any kind to the army on this coast, must first submit unequivocal evidence of their loyalty to the Government, otherwise their propositions will not be entertained. The General commanding this Department has been appealed to by many loyal citizens residing on the Pacific coast, for the adoption of more vigorous measures against the treasonable designs of persons who, while claiming and receiving protection for themselves and property, do not blush to denounce the Chief Magistrate and Government of the United States, and do all in their power to raise the standard of rebellion on this coast."

Additional Eastern News.

Washington, April 29.—A dispatch from Gen. Halleck says, it is the unanimous opinion that Gen. Sherman saved the fortunes of the day on the sixth, and contributed largely to the victory of the seventh. He was in the thickest of the fight. He had three horses shot under him, and was himself wounded twice. He respectfully recommends that he be made a Major General of Volunteers.

The President sent a message to the Senate, to-day, saying he caused the arrest of Gen. Stone on sufficient grounds, and was alone responsible for the same. The reason stated for continued delay in Stone's trial, was that witnesses and officers necessary to constitute a court were now in front of the enemy. The President states that he will have his trial as soon as it is compatible with the public interest.

Fort Leavenworth, April 29.—A circular, just published by General Sturgis, says the arrest of Col. Jennison was made at the earnest solicitation of his immediate commanding officers, who charge him with the most grave and serious crimes known to military law.

Special dispatches to the New York papers state that the War Department has received an order for supplies of arms and clothing for loyal blacks, to be enrolled in General Hunter's Division.

Washington, April 28.—The House adopted a resolution that the Judiciary Committee inquire into the expediency of punishing contractors guilty of defrauding the Government; the penalty to be the same as grand larceny.

Cairo, April 29.—The steamer Estilla, from Pittsburg Landing, arrived last night. Our siege guns are being moved to the front as rapidly as possible. On a reconnoisance on Friday, a large force of the enemy was discovered at Pea Ridge, 3 miles beyond our lines. They were not attacked. The pickets of the armies are only 2½ miles apart.

There are 5,000 bales of cotton, 1,000 hogsheads of sugar, and 20,000 barrels of molasses now lying on the levee at Memphis, which will be destroyed on the approach of the Federal forces. The newspapers and the citizens are opposed to the burning of the city by the soldiers—the country people favor it. A despotic censorship is exercised over the newspapers, which are not allowed to say a word derogatory to the rebellion.

The Danish and Swedish Ministers have gone to Fortress Monroe, and probably they will extend their visits to Norfolk and Richmond.

Fortress Monroe, April 26.—A dispatch received yesterday from Yorktown, says that the rebels fired on some boats passing through Cuts' and Warmly's Creek, doing no damage.

Washington, April 27.—The French Minister, who has returned from Richmond, reports the rebels thoroughly confident of success at Yorktown.

It was reported at Richmond that the only defense of New Orleans was an immense iron-clad steam ram, mounting 16 guns, with 6 engines and 2 propellers, and it is said that they had another like it on the stocks.

Cairo, April 27.—The steamer Platte Valley, from Pittsburg landing, arrived to-day. Gen. Halleck is pushing forward his force as rapidly as the condition of the roads will permit. On the 26th Gen. McCook's Division made a reconnoisance as far as Monterey, on the road to Corinth. The impetuosity of our forces carried everything before them, and they instantly put the rebels to flight. The rebels are armed with Enfield rifles. Prisoners taken say the Confederates have plenty of provisions and supplies. They have extensive works at Corinth, and have 150,000 men. Our advance pickets are now near enough to hear the locomotives whistle at Corinth. The Tennessee enlistments of many rebel troops have expired, and they are re-enlisting to a man. Recruits are also arriving from all parts of the South for Beauregard's army.

Chicago, April 28.—The reconnoisance of the 24th at Pittsburg Landing seems to discredit the statement brought by deserters that Corinth was being evacuated. It is believed that a battle cannot be much longer delayed.

It is reported that the Merrimac will be out soon. There were but few troops in the vicinity of Norfolk. The most intense excitement exists there, as they have great fears of an attack from Burnside. Nearly all the troops have gone to South Mills to repel any advance he might make.

New York, April 28.—The Washington Star says that M. Mercier, the French Minister, held no official communication with any one whatever during his recent visit to Richmond, except with the Consuls of his own Government. While there he saw and conversed with the rebel Secretary of State, but the intercourse was of an unofficial character.

Cairo, April 28.—Generals Buell and Beauregard have effected an agreement for the exchange of prisoners.

Telegrams say that there is reason to believe there has been a discussion at the Treasury Department respecting the policy of raising the blockade of the Southern ports, immediately on their coming into possession of our forces.

General Pope has conveyed a body of troops to Chickasaw, a post village of Franklin county, Alabama, on the Tennessee river, and at the mouth of Bear Creek. It is some distance to the east and south of Corinth.

Disaffection of the Foreign Residents of Richmond.—The Richmond Enquirer, in speaking of the foreign population of that city, says: "The disaffection of a large portion of the foreign population in Richmond, which has been developed by their stubborn resistance of the military draft now in progress, is of itself sufficient to excite the vigilance of our citizens, and to put them on their guard with respect to particular classes of foreigners in our midst. We are not in the habit of reporting information without satisfactory assurances of its correctness.

We have in our possession some curious information, which is from a source not only highly patriotic, but to which implicit credit is due, respecting the movements and suspicious speeches of a number of the foreign population of this city. We are not entirely at liberty, nor do we deem it prudent, to detail the facts which have been communicated to us; but we may assure the public that vigilance is to be the price of their safety from enemies in their midst."

Lizzie Gordon and Annie Page were arrested recently in San Francisco for playing "Model Artists" at a Melodeon.

Speech of Parson Brownlow.

Below is the speech delivered in front of the St. Cloud Hotel, Nashville, March 17th, by Parson Brownlow:

Gentlemen: I am in a sad plight to say much of interest—too thoroughly incapacitated to do justice to you or myself. My throat has been disordered for the past three years, and I have been compelled to almost abandon public speaking. Last December I was thrust into an uncomfortable and disagreeable jail—for what? Treason! Treason to the bogus Confederacy; and the proofs of that treason were articles which appeared in the Knoxville Whig in May last, when the State of Tennessee was a member of the imperishable Union. At the expiration of four weeks I became a victim to the typhoid fever, and was removed to a room in a decent dwelling, and a guard of seven men kept me company. I subsequently became so weak that I could not turn over in my bed, and the guard was increased to twelve men, for fear I should suddenly recover and run away to Kentucky. Becoming convalescent, in a measure, I was removed to my former place of confinement. One day I was visited by some Confederate officers, who remarked, "Brownlow, you should not be here. Take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate Government, which will not only entitle you to a speedy release, but insure your protection." "Sir!" said I, "before I would take the oath to support such a hell-forsaken institution, I would suffer myself to rot or die with old age."

Why, my friends, these demagogues actually boast that the Lord is upon their side, and declare that God Almighty is assisting them in the furtherance of their nefarious projects. In Knoxville and surrounding localities, a short time since, daily prayer meetings were held, wherein the Almighty was beseeched to raise Lincoln's blockade, and to hurl destruction against the Burnside Expedition. Their prayers were partly answered—the blockade at Roanoke Island was most effectually raised; a reciprocal of their sacrilege divinely tendered.

Gentlemen, I am no Abolitionist; I applaud no sectional doctrines; I am a Southern man, and all my relatives and interests are thoroughly identified with the South and Southern institutions. I was born in the Old Dominion, my parents were born in Virginia, and they and their antecedents were all slaveholders. Let me assure you that the South has suffered no infringement upon her institutions; the slavery question was actually no pretext for this unholy, unrighteous conflict. Twelve Senators from the Cotton States, who had sworn to preserve inviolate the Constitution framed by our forefathers, plotted treason at night—a fit time for such a crime and telegraphed to their States dispatches advising them to pass ordinances of secession. Yes, gentlemen, twelve senators swore allegiance in the day time, and unswore it at night.

A short time since, I was called upon by a little Jew, who, I believe, is the Secretary of War of the bogus Southern Confederacy. He threatened to hang me, and I expected no more mercy from him than was shown by his illustrious predecessors towards Jesus Christ. I entered into a long correspondence with this specimen of expiring humanity, but, from mercy or forgetfulness on their part, I was permitted to depart with all my documents in my little valise, which I hope to publish at no distant day. Gentlemen, when I started on my perilous journey, I was sore distressed in mind, and exceedingly so in body. But the moment my eyes encountered the pickets of the Federal army my depression decreased and returning health seemed suddenly to invigorate my physical constitution.

Gentlemen, Secession is played out—the dog is dead—the child is born, and his name is Jeff. Davis, Jr.

My throat distresses me to such an extent that I must decline further remarks this evening, but shall make myself heard on the next convenient occasion, which will probably be ere the termination of the present week.

The Nashville papers published this speech on successive days, the demand for it being such that they could not supply it in one day.

A CARD.

I would say to my friends in the Willamette Valley, and to all who are afflicted with disease of the bronchial tubes and lungs, that Dr J Flattery will be in Portland about April 5th and will be prepared to relieve and cure those who are thus afflicted Dr Flattery's system of Inhalation has accomplished wonders. My condition was well known to many in Portland and the adjacent country when I left Oregon in the Fall of '60 My friends supposed that I could not live long Through this system of Inhalation as prescribed by Dr Flattery, I have so far recovered as to be able for many months to pursue my business with energy and satisfaction. I could also tell of persons here and in the Sacramento Valley who were considered incurable, who have by Dr F's system been restored to their friends and to the enjoyment of health. I say to the afflicted try this new system and live

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR L J CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country As a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army for more extended labors Dr L J Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the leader in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street corner of Leidesdorff nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases Address L J CZAPKAY, M D , San Francisco, Cal June26dawly

Heroism in Humble Life

BY ANNIE SAWYER DOWNS

(Concluded)

"We go to Concord Saturday," (and to-day is Thursday thought the stricken woman) "At first I determined I wouldn't go, couldn't go, but when I went to the company meeting last night, and the squire read the President's call for help, my blood boiled and my hand went up with the rest God only knows, Fanny, how hard it is to leave you and the children, but I don't dare be a coward. Why, Fanny, I couldn't ever show grandsire's old queen's arm to the boys again, if I turned my back to my country now"

His great voice trembled, and the wondering baby caught a tear on its groping little hand but there wasn't a line that looked like faltering in that stern face The wife's tears fell like summer rain but the words of her husband thrilled her, for the true blood of the true old State was in her veins, and it shamed her now that even for a second she had thought of holding back her dearest and best, if liberty called Had she not listened when he read how the Massachusetts troops were massacred in Baltimore, how Ellsworth was shot down like a dog, and didn't she know that this war would decide whether it was to be freedom or slavery for her children? He was all she had of strength in the world, but for his sake she would not hold him back She did not need many words wherein to express her consent, but when he saw her white lids stiffen into sternness he knew he had no weak complaining of hers to struggle with — There is not much time, counting by hours, between Thursday and Saturday but there was much done in that poor household, for a new life possessed Frances Plummer She did not grow young again, she never did that this side of the grave but she grew strong for hers was the baptism of fire She listened while John told her how she could get along in his absence, how this and that one would assist her, how he would save every cent of his pay for her and the children, and without any shrinking she told him in clear, full tones that comforted him, even amid the groans and din of Bull Run, that he was to deny himself no comfort his pay could procure, for she could work as well as he Once only she broke down, when together they inspected her little stack of potatoes, "there was enough to last until those on the east knoll were ripe, and then, please God, he would be with her again if he was with her at all". Their eyes met, spite of their resolutely turning away from each other, and the bitter tears filled them

Saturday came, and he went and she took up her summer's work alone not without the hope and courage that come from self-renunciation. When she was the most weary she remembered her husband, toiling in the trenches beneath a southern sun, and no groan or complaint passed her lips Her little family lived decently, thanks to her untiring industry, and even the nearest neighbor, who remarked the wonderful growth of the potatoes and corn on the east knoll, did not dream that hours before she awoke that woman was hoeing and weeding them Once in a while she called the little ones to her, and read what she told them was a letter from their father, but she was a poor reader of writing, and what with that and her sobs they did not always get the full sense of the precious epistle Just at sunset, on a July day, the heart of the great north almost stopped its beating, and a darkness like that of midnight settled upon us as we told the much exaggerated story of Bull Run Many men never ran from that fatal field, and among them was John Plummer. He was seen fighting single handed with two Georgian Zouaves, while he had fastened to his belt the colors of his regiment He fell at last, but the colors still waved over him And yet Mr. William Russell says there was no hand to hand fighting at Bull Run

They told the tale tenderly to the woman in the brown house, and her heart met its death blow as they told, but she only said, "He would rather have died so than to run, and I would rather he would" In the years to come, if Freedom and Truth want them, there will be two sons of John Plummer, who will leap as exultantly to their call, and die as gladly at their bidding, as did their father,—thanks to their mother's teaching.

How Floyd was Got Rid of — Thurlow Weed writes a letter to the London Star, of February 13th, in which he gives the following account of the manner in which J. B. Floyd was brought to resign his place as Secretary of War under Mr Buchanan, which he had used to further the ends of treason

In February, Major Anderson commanding at Fort Moultrie, Charleston harbor, finding his position endangered, passed his garrison, by a prompt and brilliant movement, over to the stronger one of Sumpter, whereupon Floyd, Secretary of War, much excited, called upon the President to say that Major Anderson had violated express orders, and thereby seriously compromised him (Floyd) and that unless the Major was immediately remanded to Fort Moultrie he should resign the War Office

The Cabinet was assembled directly Buchanan, explained the embarrassment of the Secretary of War, remarked that the act of Major Anderson would occasion exasperation in the South, he had told Floyd that as the Government was strong, forbearance towards "erring brethren might win them back to their allegiance," and that that officer might be ordered back After an ominous silence the President enquired how the suggestion struck his Cabinet?

Stanton, just now called to the War Office, but the Attorney General, answered "That course, Mr President, ought certainly to be regarded as most liberal towards 'erring brethren,' but while one member of your Cabinet has fraudulent acceptances for millions of dollars afloat, and while the confidential clerk of another—himself in Carolina teaching rebellion—has just stolen nine hundred thousand dollars from the Indian Trust Fund the experiment of ordering Major Anderson back to Fort Moultrie would be dangerous But if you intend to try it before it is done I hope you will accept my resignation"

"And mine," added the Secretary of State Black—

"And mine, also," said the Postmaster General, Holt—

"And mine, too" followed the Secretary of the Treasury, Dix

This, of course, opened the blinded eyes of the President, and the meeting resulted in the acceptance of Floyd's resignation

Impossibilities, like vicious dogs, fly before him who is not afraid of them.

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Stricture, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes It matters not from what cause the disease originated, or how long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution filling the system with mercury, which with the disease hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with [illegible] constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system —drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to [illegible] and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by twenty years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures — Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State of Oregon and Washington Territory by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All letters [illegible] strictly confidential Address DR L J CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco

[L S] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

MARYSVILLE, June 24, 185[illegible]

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but am well with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I called at your institute [illegible] as I thought, entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly but thought you might be able to do [illegible] to ease the pain in my back and head, and [illegible] so that I would not get excited and trembling at everything Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from all symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the [illegible] of those [illegible] which you said were produced by the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] and think myself cheaply cured If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. I remain gratefully yours THOMAS HAYNES

Thankfulness is the incentive to [illegible]

CERTIFICATE — Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which is a strong recommendation not only as an act of scientific skill, but that of humanity also About two years ago I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it, soon became such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently while in pursuit of my [illegible] thrown down to the ground and without the slightest warning and although insensible to the agonies I yet [illegible] the miseries of my life, and I soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as the men who sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible] While in this state and having previous to my [illegible] tasted the sweets of life I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician and by recommendation called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my [illegible] and of my inability to reward him for his services; of which however he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health I am left to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted to make the case public, so that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed
